The Department of Media Studies, Christ Nagar College, Maranallor, in association with IQAC organised an International Webinar on Constructive Journalism on 16 June 2020, from 1:30 pm to 2:45 pm IST. The webinar was conducted using Zoom and YouTube platforms and was open to all to register and take part. No registration fee was charged for the event.

This webinar was organised to emphasise and popularise the importance of Constructive Journalism among those in the media field. Constructive journalism is a response to increasing sensationalism and negativity bias of the news media today.

It is an approach that aims to provide audiences with a fair, accurate and contextualized picture of the world, without over-emphasising the negative and what is going wrong.

The aim of constructive journalism is to combat the trivialisation and degradation of journalism by media that often is more interested in entertaining and creating controversies than informing the citizens. The webinar had good and excellent remarks from 97% of the participants and 94% expressed their interest in attending similar events by the department in the future.
